ASSET INFORMATION

Just because you are filing for bankruptcy does not mean that you will automatically lose everything you own. You are entitled to claim “exemptions,” which are things that creditors cannot take from you. You must be honest with the Court and include a list of all your assets in the Petition. You can expect significant problems with your case if you are not completely honest about your assets.

You must list everything you own, have in your possession, will own in the future, or might have any interest in now or in the future. This includes, for example, the $5 in your wallet, the car that is “owned by the bank,” and your baseball card collection. Everything means everything. It includes things that you are making payments on, such as cars or real estate; things you own with someone else (including a spouse); things that your name appears on the title or deed as the legal owner, even if you do not have possession of it; things that you are holding for the benefit of someone else, such as a college account in the joint names of you and your child; things that you may not think have a lot of value (such as your household goods and clothing); and claims you might have against someone else, such as a claim for injuries in an auto accident. We need to know everything so that we can figure out how to deal with it, and avoid your getting in trouble for not listing it.

You must value your physical assets at “replacement value.” Replacement value is defined in the Bankruptcy Code as the price that a retail merchant would charge for property of the same kind, considering the age and condition of the property at the time its value is determined. This is not the cost to replace the item with a new one or what you could sell the item for; it is the cost that a retail merchant would sell the used item in its current condition for. In many cases (particularly used clothing, furniture, computers, etc.), this would be yard sale value, or what the item would sell for on eBay (www.ebay.com). In other cases, such as jewelry, antiques or collectables, it may be retail value (e.g. pawn shop value or eBay value). For motor vehicles, it would be the third party purchase value. For real property, it is what the real property would sell for, at current market value. For cash and bank accounts, it is the actual amount on deposit. For stocks and bonds, it is their market value as of the date your case is filed. You must make a reasonable inquiry to determine the “replacement value” of your assets.

COMPLETING THE CREDITOR INFORMATION SHEET

The Creditor Information Sheet lists everyone you owe money to, everyone you might owe money to, everyone who might have a claim against you, and everyone you don't owe money to (but they think you do). Make as many copies of the Creditor Information Sheet as you need.

You must list all your debts—you cannot pick and choose which debts to include. Some debts may not be dischargeable in your bankruptcy. We will explain which (if any) of your debts are not dischargeable. If you are unsure whether to include a person or business, go ahead and list them, and tell us why you have doubts.

There are three kinds of debts: Secured, Unsecured and Priority.

WHAT IS A “SECURED DEBT”?

A Secured Debt is a debt where you pledge an asset as collateral for a loan. If you do not pay your debt, the creditor can foreclose on or repossess the asset.

All Secured Creditors must be listed whether or not you intend to keep the property and continue paying for it. Some examples of secured debts are:

- ◆ Mortgages, deeds of trust, equity lines, and other home loans (list each loan separately);
- ◆ Car, truck and boat loans;
- ◆ Credit cards bills for furniture, big screen TVs, jewelry and other big-ticket items;
- ◆ Any debt that is secured by your pension, 401(k) plan, or any other account, whether or not you intend to repay the debt;
- ◆ Any account that you cosigned for someone else that is secured (such as car, truck, furniture, or jewelry); and
- ◆ Some lawsuit judgments obtained against you.

WHAT IS AN “UNSECURED DEBT”?

An Unsecured Debt is a debt where the person or business to whom you owe money cannot foreclose on or repossess a specific piece of your property if you do not pay. Some examples of unsecured debts are:

- ◆ Most credit cards, medical bills and personal loans;
- ◆ Liability for automobile accidents and other negligence;
- ◆ A balance owed after a foreclosure or repossession;
- ◆ Any account (not secured) that you cosigned for someone else; and
- ◆ Anyone who has sued you but has not yet obtained or recorded a judgment.

WHAT IS A “PRIORITY DEBT”?

A “Priority Debt” is a special type of unsecured debt. There are five main types:

Taxes—Any claim for taxes, customs duties, and penalties made by the federal government or IRS, a state government, or any other taxing authority (such as county property taxes). If the tax was assessed more than 240 days ago and the return filed more than two years ago for taxes due more than three years ago, it may be considered a general unsecured debt.

Domestic Support Obligations—Alimony, spousal support, child support, a marital award, property distribution or an order for the payment of costs or fees related to a domestic matter.

Wages and Contributions—Claims by your employees for wages, salary, or commissions, including vacation, severance, sick leave, or contributions to an employee benefit plan.

Deposits—Claims for money given to you to do something that you did not do (such as a rental or cleaning deposit).

Claims for Death or Injury While You Were Intoxicated

For each debt, Please provide the following information using the attached form (make additional copies of the form if you need to):

1. Creditor Name
2. Creditor Address
3. Creditor Telephone Number
4. Account Number
5. Current Balance Due
6. Type of debt (secured, unsecured, priority). If the debt is secured, we need to know what asset was given as security, how much that asset is now worth, the year of your final payment on the loan, and the amount you are behind on payments.
7. Purpose of debt (credit card, loan, medical bill, etc.)
8. Person who is responsible for the debt (you, spouse, you and spouse, other person)
9. If you have paid the creditor a total of $600 or more in the last 90 days, we need to know the dates and amounts of such payments.
10. If your account has been referred to a collection agency or attorney, we need their name, address and phone number.

If you have any questions about any of these matters or the Creditor Information Sheet, please call us and ask.

INITIAL CONSULTATION AGREEMENT AND REQUIRED NOTICES

Today, I had an initial consultation with Attorney Merv Waage (the "Firm"). I was advised that the Firm is a debt relief agency as defined in the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 ("BAPCPA"), and that it helps people file for relief under the bankruptcy code.

There is no charge for the initial consultation. The Firm provides the following services at the initial consultation:

- A description of the relief available, the benefits and the risks of filing for bankruptcy under sections 7, 11, 12 and 13 of the Bankruptcy Code.
- An analysis, based on the information and documents provided by me, if any, of my income, expenses, assets and liabilities. This analysis is only preliminary, since the Firm does not have all of the information and documents that will be required to fully evaluate my situation.
- If it has appeared from this analysis that bankruptcy may be an appropriate remedy for me, a discussion of the information and documents I will need to provide the Firm. If it has appeared from today's analysis that bankruptcy may not be an appropriate remedy for me, a discussion of other possible alternatives.

I have been informed and agree that the Firm will not provide any services or bankruptcy assistance to me at this time, other than specifically stated in this Agreement. It is understood that the Firm will not provide any other legal services to me and will not file bankruptcy for me unless and until the Bankruptcy Questionnaire has been completed, all documents and information requested have been provided, and I have received a certification and budget analysis from an approved credit counseling agency. Should I wish the Firm to provide additional services, including the filing of bankruptcy, I will sign a separate retainer agreement detailing such services and their cost.

BAPCPA REQUIRED NOTICE NO. 1 (§ 342(b)(1) and 527(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code) PURPOSES, BENEFITS AND COSTS OF BANKRUPTCY

This discussion is intended only as a brief overview of the types of bankruptcy. You should not decide whether or not to file for bankruptcy relief solely on this information. Bankruptcy law is complex, and there are many considerations that must be taken into account in making the determination whether or not to file. Anyone considering bankruptcy is encouraged to make a decision only after seeking the advice and assistance of an experienced bankruptcy attorney.

When a person is discharged in bankruptcy, he or she is relieved from liability for many debts incurred before the bankruptcy was filed and protected from future collection of those debts. The purpose of bankruptcy is to give you a "fresh start," and the bankruptcy code is interpreted by the Courts to give effect to these words.

Types of Bankruptcy

The Bankruptcy Code is divided into chapters. The chapters that usually apply to consumers are Chapter 7, where most or all of your debt is wiped out, and Chapter 13, which involves a repayment plan.

In most cases, once you file your case, the "Automatic Stay" immediately goes into effect. The Automatic Stay means that a bankruptcy filing automatically stops, or stays, and brings to a halt most lawsuits, repossessions, foreclosures, evictions, garnishments, attachments, utility shut-offs, and debt collection harassment. Generally, creditors cannot take any further action against you or your property without permission from the Bankruptcy Court.

Chapter 7. Chapter 7 is designed for people who are having financial difficulties and are not able to re-pay their debts.

Under the changes to the Bankruptcy Code that took effect October 17, 2005, you can usually qualify for a Chapter 7 if your average gross monthly income for the last six months is below your state's Median Income, your gross income less certain expenses is below your state's Median Income, or you can show "special circumstances" that would allow you to qualify for Chapter 7. The filing fee for a Chapter 7 is $306.00.

Under Chapter 7, you can usually exempt, or keep, most or all of your assets under Texas law, or, if you have not lived in Texas for the past two years, under the state's exemption law that applies to your case. Most retirement accounts and pensions are also exempt. Secured property, normally your car and house, may not have any net equity, in which case you can keep it as well. The Trustee liquidates most non-exempt property and uses the proceeds to pay your creditors according to priorities of the Bankruptcy Code.

Once your Chapter 7 case is over, you receive a Discharge. The discharge prevents your creditors from taking any steps to try to collect their unsecured debt. They cannot call you, write you, sue you, or take any steps that could be considered an attempt to collect its debt. If you want to keep property that has a lien on it, you must keep your payments current, and may be required to reaffirm your debt. Some debts can not be discharged. Typical examples are child support, Alimony and other domestic support obligations, some taxes, student loans, criminal restitution, and debts for death or personal injury caused by operating vehicles while intoxicated with alcohol or drugs.

Chapter 13. Chapter 13 is a valuable tool that lets you catch up overdue mortgage or car payments, taxes and domestic support obligations. It also applies where you have the ability to repay some or all of your debts over time. You must have less than $360,475 in unsecured debt (such as credit cards and doctor's bills) and less than $1,081,400 in secured debt (such as mortgages and car loans) to qualify for Chapter 13. The filing fee for a Chapter 13 is $281.00.

Under Chapter 13, you keep all of your property, both exempt and non-exempt, as long as you resume making your regular payments on secured debt and keep current under the repayment plan that you propose. A repayment plan can last for up to five years. After finishing your payments, most of your unsecured debts are discharged.

Chapter 11. Chapter 11 is designed primarily for business reorganization, but is also available to consumer debtors. Its provisions are quite complex. In the vast majority of cases, Chapter 11 is unnecessary and too expensive for most consumer debtors. The filing fee for Chapter 11 is $1,213.00.

Chapter 12. Chapter 12 lets family farmers repay their debts over a period of time, and is in many ways similar to a Chapter 13. The filing fee for a Chapter 12 is $246.00.

Credit Counseling. Reputable credit counselors can advise you on managing your money and your debts. They may also be able to develop a plan to repay your debts.

Under the changes to the Bankruptcy Code that took effect October 17, 2005, you are required to take two short credit counseling courses, one before you file bankruptcy, and one after you have filed. We will refer you to a reputable credit counselor who has been approved by the United States Trustee Department for these courses.

BAPCPA REQUIRED NOTICE NO. 2 (§ 527(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code)
NOTICE OF MANDATORY DISCLOSURE TO CONSUMERS WHO CONTEMPLATE FILING BANKRUPTCY

Please Note: These Notices are required by legislation adopted in 2005, after intense lobbying by the credit industry. Please rest assured —so long as you are honest and meet the requirements set out under the law, you are entitled to debt relief. We can guide you through all the requirements of filing bankruptcy, so long as you provide accurate and complete information.

1. All information that the assisted person is required to provide with a petition thereafter during a case under this title is required to be complete, accurate and truthful.
2. All assets and all liabilities are required to be completely and accurately disclosed in the documents filed to commence the case, and the replacement value of each asset as defined in section 506 must be stated in those documents where requested after reasonable inquiry to establish such value.
3. Current monthly income, the amounts specified in section 707(b)(2) and, in a case under chapter 13 of this title, disposable income (determined in accordance with section 707(b)(2)), are required to be stated after reasonable inquiry; and
4. Information that an assisted person provides during their case may be audited pursuant to this title, and that failure to provide such information may result in dismissal of the case under this title or other sanction, including a criminal sanction.

BAPCPA REQUIRED NOTICE NO. 3 (§ 342(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code)
FRAUD & CONCEALMENT PROHIBITED

If you decide to file bankruptcy, it is important that you understand the following:

1. Some or all of the information you provide in connection with your bankruptcy will be filed with the bankruptcy court on forms or documents that you will be required to sign and declare as true under penalty of perjury.
2. A person who knowingly and fraudulently conceals assets or makes a false oath or statement under penalty of perjury in connection with a bankruptcy case shall be subject to fine, imprisonment, or both.
3. All information you provide in connection with your bankruptcy case is subject to examination by the Attorney General.

BAPCPA REQUIRED NOTICE NO. 4 (§ 527(b) of the Bankruptcy Code)
IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BANKRUPTCY ASSISTANCE SERVICES

If you decide to seek bankruptcy relief, you can represent yourself, you can hire an attorney to represent you, or you can get help in some localities from a bankruptcy petition preparer who is not an attorney. THE LAW REQUIRES AN ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER TO GIVE YOU A WRITTEN CONTRACT SPECIFYING WHAT THE ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER WILL DO FOR YOU AND HOW MUCH IT WILL COST. Ask to see the contract before you hire anyone.

The following information helps you understand what must be done in a routine bankruptcy case to help you evaluate how much service you need. Although bankruptcy can be complex, many cases are routine. An attorney can help guide you through this intricate process, making it easier and less stressful for you.

Before filing a bankruptcy case, either you or your attorney should analyze your eligibility for different forms of debt relief available under the Bankruptcy Code and which form of relief is most likely to be beneficial for you. Be sure you understand the relief you can obtain and its limitations. To file a bankruptcy case, documents called a Petition, Schedules and Statement of Financial Affairs, as well as in some cases a Statement of Intention need to be prepared correctly and filed with the bankruptcy court. You will have to pay a filing fee to the bankruptcy court. Once your case starts, you will have to attend the required first meeting of creditors where you will be questioned by a court official called a "trustee" and, much more rarely, by creditors.

If you choose to file a chapter 7 case, you may be asked by a creditor to reaffirm a debt. You may want help deciding whether to do so. A creditor is not permitted to coerce you into reaffirming your debts. It may not be in your best interest to reaffirm a debt.

If you choose to file a chapter 13 case in which you repay your creditors what you can afford over 3 to 5 years, you may also want help with preparing your chapter 13 plan and with the confirmation hearing on your plan which, if held, will be before a bankruptcy judge.

If you select another type of relief under the Bankruptcy Code other than chapter 7 or chapter 13, you will want to find out what should be done from someone familiar with that type of relief. However, please be advised that in most cases, you will only be concerned with chapter 7 and chapter 13.

Your bankruptcy case may also involve litigation. You are generally permitted to represent yourself in litigation in bankruptcy court, but only attorneys, not bankruptcy petition preparers, can give you legal advice.
